the Farmers' Alliance candidate at the last gubernatorial election in his State, made a speech at Columbia last Monday in which "I know all the leaders of the Alliance. They are a sorry set. The demon of smbition is whispering in Polk's ear that he might be the Presidential candidate of the third party. Hence he has gone over to the sut-tressury scheme and is hobnobbing with he undertook until he got a paper which another man made a success. Who is Macune? An ex-republican. He is a republi can to-day. Born in Wisconsin, he eventu-ally floated to Texas, where he found the people half crazy, got into the Alliance Exchange at Dallas, which had about $75,000, which soon went, and he went, too. He didn't run away. He only went to the national capital, where there was a bigger field. There he made hims-if chairman of the National capital and the statement of tional Alliance legislative committee—he and Alonzo Waddell, of South Dakots. He was also appointed chairman of the National Alliance executive committee, so that he works the bosses in making and executing the laws. He was then the great I am He issued orders and cracked his whip. Gentlemen, if God Almigh'y ever stamped vil-lian on the face of any man when He sent Nelther Polk, the president of the Alliance, nor Terrell is a farmer to-day. They are not identified with you in interest. They are all on the make. And who is Terrel? He owned a little patch of ground in Texas, but the sun was too hot for him to work. He took to tramping around to suggest this humbug as a remedy for your distress. He succeeded at it spiendidly till Willetts turned him out. Now he is assistant lecturer. He told me himself he had sold his little farm. He travels around living on the fat of the lead walcomed by the brothers and of the land, welcomed by the brothers and slaters wherever he goes, and lives like a lord by taffying and deluding the people, making you all dissatisfied, telling falsehood and suggesting remedies that an eighteen year-old boy would be ashamed of."

Mr. Tillman said the motive of these dem agogues in starting the sub-treasury scheme

South, Macune thought it would divide the classes. I thick he took pay from the republican party. 'Third—He wanted to break up the farmers' movement and keep the farmers from effecting any legislation for their interest.

"In this I think they w.re in the pay of the manufacturers and also in that of the great railroad kings. See how deeply he laid his schemes. He suggested impracticable measures, which no man who had respect for his opinion would ever advocate. They thought they could beat down the people's parasites and get the offices themselves. Macune is capable of all these things. I tell you he is a remarkable man, a remarkable scoundred, the equal of Machiavelli in diplomacy and state craft.

"From Jefferson's time to the present you and your fathers have belonged to the democratic party. What little liberty and prosperity you have had since the war your democratic brethren at the North, co-operating with your own representatives, have given you. I advise you to a man to stand by the party that has stood by you in the past, and now that rolled is almost in sight do not desert the party of your fathers and run off after strange gods."
